

In Memoriam

GEORGE A. HAMILTON

Adopted by the Board of Directors of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers
January 21, 1935

The death, on January 10, 1935, of George Anson Hamilton, at the age of ninety-one years, removed from the membership one of the few individuals who had been actively interested in Institute affairs throughout its entire life.

Mr. Hamilton, a Charter Member, one of the first Vice-Presidents (1884-86), and National Treasurer 1895-1930, was transferred to the grade of Fellow in 1913, and was elected an Honorary Member in 1933. He was a member of the first Editing Committee, the Committee on Permanent Quarters, and several other Institute committees.

RESOLVED: That the Board of Directors of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers hereby expresses, upon behalf of the membership, its keen regret at the death of Mr. Hamilton and its sincere appreciation of his many contributions to the development of the activities of the Institute, and be it further

RESOLVED: That these resolutions be entered in the minutes and copies be transmitted to members of his family.
