

1067

October 20, 1910.

Dr. Samuel Sheldon,
198-1/2 Schermerhorn St.,
Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Sheldon:

Thank you for the clippings received, especially that from the Eagle yesterday, concerning the subway meeting. The morning Sun is taking the opposite side, and has printed editorials for two successive days, 'knocking' the plans of the commission. This gives me the impression that J. P. Morgan is one of the interested parties; otherwise, these editorials would not have been written.

Miss Gates has just called with a list of railroad and public utilities commissions from nearly all the states. Most of them, however, are simply railway commissions. She does not feel sure that you wish to obtain the reports of railway commissions, and therefore will not write for them unless you deem it necessary to include them in the proposed collection. I told her to do nothing more in the matter, and that I would write to you to confer with her the next time you were in the building. I have made an engagement to attend the Schenectady smoker on October 25th, and understand that Mr. Dunn is also to be there. I hope I may see you before starting.

Yours truly,

Secretary.