Society Chapter Formations

IEEE Chapters provide a local technical focus for members. IEEE Chapters may be single - to one Section and/or Society - or joint. Joint Chapters may contain members from more than one Society and/or more than one Section. Large Sections, such as single country Sections, may also have more than one Chapter of the same Society.

If you would like to form an IEEE Society Chapter in your Section, first, advise Field Services of your interest in starting a Chapter. You will then receive a Chapter Formation kit. You can obtain a list of all eligible Society members within your Section through your local Membership Data Diskette Recipient, or we can provide you with a listing upon request.

Next complete the Chapter Formation Petition (a copy of which has been provided on the back of this flier). Though you only need 12 Society member signatures on the petition, we recommend that you get 15 to 20 signatures - we often find, in reviewing the petition, that one or two members may have fallen into arrears or may belong to another Section.

Once you have your Chapter up and running you must keep it active by maintaining a base membership of ten members, and by holding at least two technical meetings per year. Your Section, Society, and the IEEE staff can provide excellent resources for keeping your Chapter active.

If you would like a Chapter Formation Kit contact Cindy Poko, IEEE Field Services 908.562.5513 (phone), or c.poko@ieee.org (e-mail).
